

The Australasian College of Road Safety (ACRS) and the Centre for Accident Research & Road Safety - Queensland (CARRS-Q)

invites you to

“The Road Traffic Injury Prevention” Breakfast Forum World Health Day 2004

Wednesday 7 April
7.15am (for an 7.30am start) to 9.00am
to be held at
Parliamentary Annexe, Function Room A
George Street, Brisbane

The World Health Organisation has selected the theme of ‘Road Safety’ for this year’s World Health Day, and will be launching the World Report on Road Traffic Injury Prevention on this day.

To commemorate the Day and the release of the Report, ACRS, CARRS-Q and our sponsors are hosting a Breakfast Forum. Key speakers will focus on road traffic injury prevention, with the main address being given by Professor Robyn Norton, co-author of the World Health Organisation’s Five-Year Road Traffic Injuries Prevention Strategy.

Our Speakers are:

Professor Robyn Norton, Director of The George Institute for International Health at the University of Sydney will provide an overview of the World Health Organisation’s World Report on Road Traffic Injury Prevention.

The Honourable Paul Lucas MP, Minister for Transport and Main Roads will discuss the Queensland Road Safety Strategy 2004 – 2011: Safe4Life, encouraging community participation in achieving safer road environments.

Professor Mary Sheehan, AO, Director of CARRS-Q will discuss the local issues and the research being undertaken and intervention programs being developed by organisations such as CARRS-Q to assist in the decrease road trauma incidents.

Breakfast will be served. Limited numbers apply, with 50 general seats available. RSVP’s must be received by Friday 2 April. Please fax back the following form to Christine Gustafson, CARRS-Q on 3864 4640. CARRS-Q must be notified of any cancellations prior to the event. For further information or enquiries, please contact Christine Gustafson on phone 07 3864 4568 or email c.gustafson@qut.edu.au

Proudly supported by...

Queensland Government

Yes, I would like to attend the World Health Day Breakfast Forum. Please record the following details as my RSVP for the event on Wednesday 7 April 2004.

Contact Name: _____

Organisation: _____

Phone: _____ Fax: _____

Email: _____

Number of attendees: _____

Please note: Due to seating restrictions, limited numbers apply, with 50 general seats available. You will be notified if part, or all, of your group is unable to be included. Christine Gustafson of CARRS-Q MUST be notified of ALL CANCELLATIONS prior to the event.

Please fax this form back to Christine Gustafson, CARRS-Q by Friday 2 April on 3864 4640. Please note: the seats will be reserved as RSVP's are received. Please be prompt with your bookings to avoid disappointment.

Proudly supported by...

