

2012 Directions in Road Safety Research Forum

Discussion • Inspiration • Dissemination

18 – 19 June 2012
Queensland University of Technology
Gardens Point Campus
Brisbane, Australia

Proudly presented by the Centre for Accident Research and Road Safety – Queensland

2012 Directions in Road Discussion • Inspiration

The Directions in Road Safety Research Forum allows researchers the opportunity to present and discuss current research initiatives and explore common research issues through casual peer discussion.

The forum is designed to complement the Australian Road Safety Research, Policing and Education Conference, which continues to provide an excellent opportunity to disseminate completed research outcomes.

Who will benefit from attending?

- Road safety researchers
- postgraduate students

Why should you attend?

- In-depth review and discussion of research in progress
- Networking with Australia's leading road safety professionals
- Possibilities for cooperation on future research projects
- Inspiration for future studies
- Ideas for future collaborative work
- Exploration of issues of research quality and data reliability

Presentations

Presenters are invited to spend 10 minutes providing an informal overview of current unpublished research, to be followed by 5 minutes of questions/discussion time.

Presentations are welcome from road safety research professionals in all disciplines.

Please indicate on your registration form if you would like to be considered as a presenter. All applications to present must be submitted by Friday 6 April 2012. Numbers are limited so register early to secure your place.

For more information on registering and presenting, please contact the Centre for Accident Research and Road Safety – Queensland on 07 3138 4905 or by emailing carrsq@qut.edu.au.
